Ivonne F Alexander
12811 SW 148 Street Road
Miami, Florida 33186

Born in Havana, Cuba on February 5, 1948, Ivonne moved to Miami at a young age. Times were hard for the Alexander family during those days and there was little money for such things as sweets. Ivonne remembers going to Crandon Park and eating seagrapes as a substitute. If you ask her she will tell you how she detests them today.

She went to Shenandoah Junior High School and was active in sports. Friends will attest to the fact that she was a fierce competitor. This is a trait that has served her well throughout her career. After graduating from Miami Senior High School, she attended Miami Dade Community College. She then transferred to Florida International University studying Accounting and Finance.

Having worked her way through school, Ivonne spent some time working in New York City. She then settled into a 23 year career with Farm Credit leaving there as the first female Area Manager and Senior Vice President of the largest and premier agricultural lender in the nation. She started at the bottom rung and worked her way up to serving row croppers, fruit growers and nursery operations. She is well known and respected both inside and outside the South Dade's agricultural community. She proved her worth to the community with her steadfast effort and long hours after Hurricane Andrew by structuring and closing millions of dollars in rehabilitation loans to farmers who could not have recovered without the help from Farm Credit financing.

Ivonne is the former CFO of Nature's Way Nursery of Miami, Inc., a grower of outdoor landscape material catering to the big boxes and previously owned and operated Happy Days Nursery, Inc., a moderate size foliage and woody ornamental plant nursery located at 16700 SW 248 Street which was sold a few years ago as her partners wanted to retire and she wanted to have more time to dedicate to the ag industry as a whole. Ivonne currently owns and operates Management & Business Consultants, Inc., a consulting company catering exclusively to the agricultural industry and deals with all aspects of ag business from regulation to production to the business as a whole in a very competitive environment.

Some of her clients include but are not limited to: Nature's Way Nursery, Acosta Farms, R Plants, Exotic Center, Morejon Farms, Laguna Bay Growers, Capri Farms, Excel Farms and Avocado Sunsets.

It is hard to find one more active in community affairs than Ivonne Alexander. The following is a list of her known affiliations:

1. Dade County AgriCouncil –Director
2. Dade County Farm Bureau – Director and Past President
3. Dade County Fair and Exposition Association – Director and Past President
